RE: COUNTY ROLE IN PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

The Huntingdon County Planning Commission performs a task mandated by state law when it reviews various actions of developers or local government. We have compiled the attached report on local ordinances regulating land development, sewage permits, and building activity to assist both developers and local government in understanding the role of the County Planning Commission. Also included is a copy of the Planning Commission's Subdivision Review Policy and local contact persons for various state permits.

Every effort is made to keep this information current. However, this document is published only once per year. For up to date information, go to our website at www.huntingdoncounty.net. If errors are noted, please contact the Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department at (814) 643-5091 or planning@huntingdoncounty.net.

HUNTINGDON COUNTY LAND DEVELOPMENT GUIDE

Introduction

The Huntingdon County Planning Commission and the Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department are partners with local government in promoting sound land use policies and comprehensive planning. According to the adopted Huntingdon County Comprehensive Plan, the County seeks to fulfill the role of partner by being an educator, technician, grantsman and facilitator. It is the goal of the "Huntingdon County Land Development Guide" to outline these responsibilities and to provide local government contacts for further inquiry by developers and the general public.

Pennsylvania Act 247, the Municipalities Planning Code, mandates review and comment on local planning and development activities by the County Planning Commission. The Municipalities Planning Code governs all county and municipal planning and land development regulation. Under the Act, all planning commissions have the same basic powers and duties. However, the small size and volunteer nature of rural municipalities and their planning commissions present a need for planning and development services which can be addressed by the County.

Comprehensive Planning

Developers are encouraged to follow both County and municipal comprehensive plans when making land use decisions. The comprehensive plan is the official policy on issues such as land use, community services and transportation. Huntingdon County adopted a comprehensive plan, titled "Continuity Through Conservation II" on July 11, 2000. In addition to the Huntingdon County Comprehensive Plan, fourteen (14) municipalities have developed comprehensive plans to guide community development. The Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department supports the creation of local and regional plans throughout the County. Planning and Development staff are available to provide assistance in securing professional planning consultants, obtaining funding for planning activities and in setting goals for local planning activities.

Federal, State and Local Land Development Regulations

Numerous local, state and federal ordinances, laws, and regulations have been adopted to assure that land is developed without harming the health, safety or welfare of residents. These regulations are designed to protect drinking water, to provide safe streets and highways, to plan for compatible uses of the land, and to provide for needed services and public facilities. Many measures are also designed to protect the natural environment from the negative side effects of development: erosion, water pollution, flooding, loss of agricultural land, and destruction of wildlife habitat.

The guide contains information on which regulations are in effect in each of the forty eight (48) municipalities and on the various contacts required for obtaining permits. There are currently no County ordinances regulating land development. The Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department and the Huntingdon County Planning Commission provide technical assistance to developers and municipalities.

Thirty-one (31) Huntingdon County municipalities have adopted a Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance. Ten (10) municipalities have adopted a Zoning Ordinance and forty-one (41) have adopted a Development Permit Ordinance. The Development Permit Ordinance should not be confused with the Uniform Construction Code. The Development Permit Ordinance regulates all development, including buildings, fences or other activities. It focuses on preventing inappropriate floodplain development. There are currently no subdivision and land development or zoning ordinances at the County level. While the Huntingdon County Planning Commission reviews development proposals submitted to it by local municipalities, these reviews are advisory, with final action taken by the local governing body.

Municipal approval must be obtained prior to any land subdivision activity, installation of an on-lot sewage system of 10,000 gallons/day or more, or placement of more than one dwelling unit on a lot. In these cases, developers must check with the municipal Sewage Enforcement Officer to determine if a sewage planning module is required.

Prior to any building construction, a municipal building permit must be obtained; and, prior to receiving a building permit (in areas without community sewers), a sewage permit must be obtained. Sewage permits are obtained by contacting the municipal Sewage Enforcement Officer. In Huntingdon County, each municipality is responsible for hiring its own Sewage Enforcement Officer (SEO) for the purposes of sewage enforcement and permitting. The names and addresses of these SEO's are included in this Guide.

Other permits which may be required include a highway occupancy permit from PA DOT; a soil erosion and sedimentation control plan or NPDES permit from the Huntingdon County Conservation District; Uniform Construction Code inspection; and municipal stormwater and floodplain management regulations.

County Subdivision Review

The Planning Commission maintains an active review and comment role in the area of subdivision and land development regulation, with the staff providing a thorough "desk-top" review and comment on submitted proposals. The Commission is also actively involved in the review of sewage planning modules on behalf of the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and as provided for by the Pennsylvania Sewage Facilities Act (Act 537). A copy of the Huntingdon County Planning Commission Subdivision Review Policy is contained in this Guide. Payment of a review fee is required for any subdivision, land development, or sewage planning module prior to its review and comment. This is in addition to any fees required by local municipalities or state agencies.

First Steps in Development

Developers are encouraged to contact the local municipality and the Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department before the start of any development to determine what regulations might be applicable. Contacting a professional surveyor, engineer, soil scientist, or landscape architect can save a developer valuable time and money as well.

Copies of many of the municipal ordinances in effect may be found at the Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department or at the Pennsylvania E-library website, www.elibrary.state.pa.us/disclaimer.asp. Interested persons are welcome to review our file copies, but are urged to contact the municipality to be assured of having the most current material.

It is important that developers and their representatives remember to record approved subdivision plans within 60 to 90 days after municipal approval (the exact time period is specified in the local subdivision ordinance). Failure to record may negate plan approval by the municipality. Developers need to be aware of the requirements of the Huntingdon County Recorder of Deeds for recording subdivision plans (see the attached policy from the Recorder in Appendix D).

Other Act 247 Review Activities

The Municipalities Planning Code mandates planning commission review of other activities of county and municipal government. Section 303 of the MPC provides that whenever the governing body has properly adopted a comprehensive plan, various actions by that unit of local government shall be submitted to the planning commission for recommendations. These include the opening of any street, the construction or demolition of any public structure, the adoption or amendment of any subdivision or zoning ordinance and the construction or abandonment of any water or sewer facility. Section 304 provides for “review and comment” of municipal activities by a county planning agency of the activities listed previously.

Model Ordinances

The Huntingdon County Planning Commission has published a series of “model ordinances” to aid local municipalities in setting development standards. The major ordinance in this publication is a “Model Municipal Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance.” The County believes that all municipalities need to have a subdivision ordinance. Other model ordinances include: Sign Standards for Zoning Ordinances, Stormwater Management Ordinance, Street Tree Commission Ordinance, Development Permit/Floodplain Management Ordinance, Outdoor Lighting Ordinance, Driveway Ordinance, and a Model Zoning Ordinance.

If you have any questions, please contact the Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department at (814) 643-5091. Further information may be found at www.huntingdoncounty.net.

Rural Addressing

Prior to construction or issuance of a building permit, an address must be obtained. Addresses are available for any home, business or other addressable structure. In most instances, the 9-1-1 rural address will be the mailing address. Individuals may elect to have a post office box, or, in the case of seasonal homes, may have a mailing address different from the physical address of the structure.

Addresses may be obtained by contacting the Huntingdon County Mapping Department. In some cases, the local municipality may issue the address.

Uniform Construction Code

The General Assembly of Pennsylvania enacted the Pennsylvania Construction Code Act (Act 45) on November 10, 1999. Implementation of this building code was delayed several times and became final on August 7, 2004. The legislation adopted the International Building Code (2006 Version) as Pennsylvania’s official code. Forty-seven out of forty-eight Huntingdon County municipalities have opted to enforce the code locally. See the additional information under “Other Permit Agencies” in this Guide for a complete list of third party inspection agencies and “opt in” municipalities.

If a municipality has “opted in”, all UCC enforcement is local, except where municipal (or third party) code officials lack the certification necessary to approve plans and inspect commercial construction for compliance with UCC accessibility requirements.

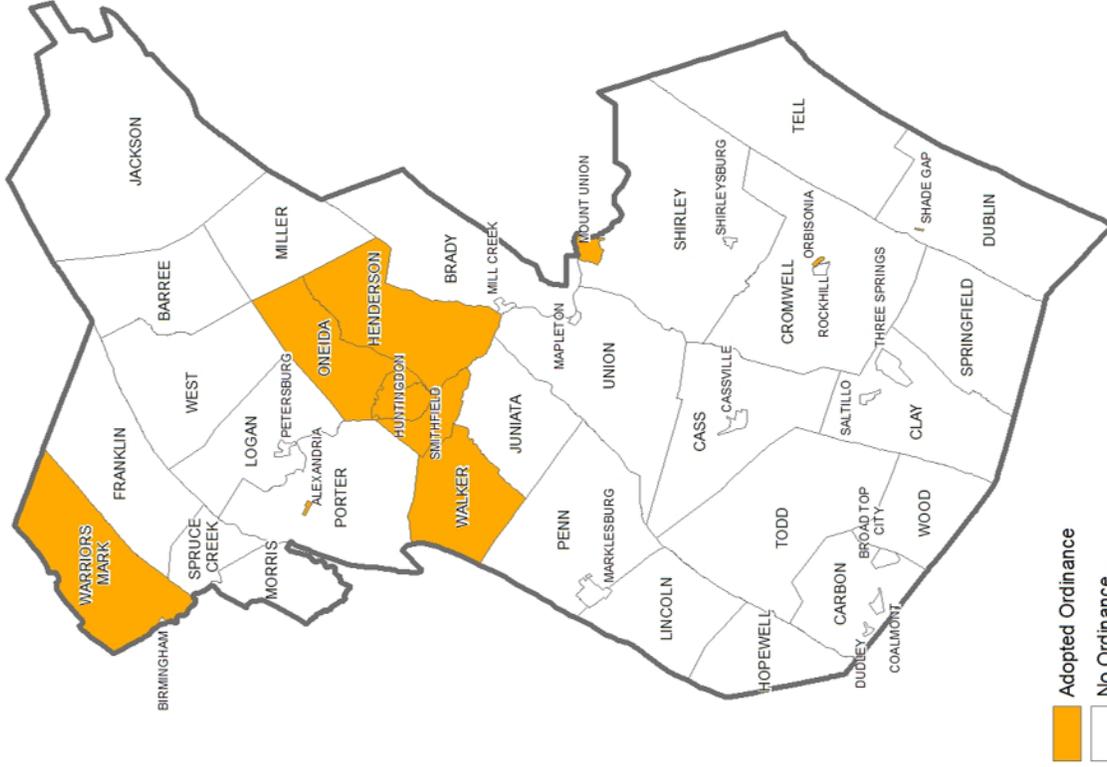

If a municipality has “opted out”, the Department of Labor and Industry is responsible for all commercial code enforcement in that municipality. The Department also has sole jurisdiction for all state-owned buildings no matter where they are located.

Certified third party agencies hired by property owners (or their contractors) will enforce the residential requirements of the UCC in all opt-out municipalities.

The first code change occurred on December 10, 2009, adopting 2009 versions of the International Code Council’s family of codes. According to the Department of Labor & Industry’s website, the 2009 edition of the ICC codes remain in effect. Information regarding the UCC, can be found on the Labor and Industry website - <http://www.dli.state.pa.us>.

PENNSYLVANIA'S SEWAGE DISPOSAL LAW

Understanding Act 537

Streams and drinking water contaminated by discharge of untreated sewage present a major threat to Pennsylvania's public health, environmental safety and economic development. Inadequate or malfunctioning treatment systems plus the strain of increased development have contributed to the overall degradation of the state's sewage disposal systems. This has caused outbreaks of water-borne diseases and pushed much of the state's sewage systems over capacity, preventing additional sewer line hook-ups.

According to the Academy of Natural Sciences (1983), "septic tanks are the highest ranking sources of wastewater which is discharged directly into groundwater." Every day, Pennsylvania's 1.3 million active septic systems discharge nearly 390 million gallons of sewage into the groundwater and with it bacteria, viruses and parasites.

The Pennsylvania Sewage Facilities Act (Act 537) was enacted in 1966, with subsequent amendments, to set uniform standards for the repair and/or construction of any sewage disposal facility. The two main goals of Act 537 are to correct existing disposal systems and to prevent future sewage disposal problems. To attain these objectives, Act 537 requires the planning of all sewage facilities and the permitting of on-lot disposal systems.

Planning Process: Local governments are responsible for developing Official Sewage Plans which include the base plan and any planning revisions under the New Land Development process. These are then submitted to DEP for final review and approval.

Permitting Process: State-certified Sewage Enforcement Officers (SEOs) working for local governing bodies handle the on-lot permitting process, which includes the review of soil profiles and percolation tests, and the issuance of permits.

Provisions of Act 537 administered by DEP include: 1) training and certifying SEOs; 2) providing technical assistance; 3) reviewing Official Sewage Plans and all revisions; 4) awarding grants to local agencies for the planning process; and 5) reimbursing local agencies for expenses incurred in the permitting process.

DID YOU KNOW...

- DEP reviews more than 6,000 planning modules for new land development each year.
- Approximately one-third of Pennsylvania residents depend on septic systems.
- DEP approval of sewage facilities planning is a prerequisite for the receipt of loans or grants under PENNVEST and other funding sources.
- In 1995, a single outbreak of a waterborne disease contaminated the water supply of 18 communities and resulted in a $9 million economic loss.

NEW LAND DEVELOPMENT PLANNING PROCESS

Anyone who intends to subdivide or develop land must comply with certain sewage planning requirements. These include completion of either a sewage planning module or a request for exemption from planning. An exemption from planning may be granted where new development will be connected to a municipal sewage system, or, for on-lot systems, where separate primary and alternate soil absorption areas are approved for each lot.

1. Minor module needed for a subdivision of up to 10 lots, single family residential structures, and individual on-lot sewage disposal systems:

- a. Contact municipal SEO or Building Permit Official for Component 1 or postcard (to request exemption);
 - b. Complete and submit Component 1 to municipality;
 - c. Municipality approves or denies submission
 - d. Township or developer submits module to DEP for review and approval.
2. Major Module needed for a subdivision of 11 or more lots, on-lot disposal, commercial development, public sewerage proposals, and small flow discharge systems up to 2,000 gpd:
 - a. Contact municipal SEO or Building Permit Official for Postcard;
 - b. Complete and submit Postcard to local DEP office;
 - c. DEP forwards necessary components based on postcard information (Component 2 for on-lot disposal; Component 3 for public sewerage, Component 3S for small flow discharge systems up to 2,000 gpd);
 - d. Complete and submit component with detailed information about site location, soil suitability for on-lot disposal, and flow and drinking water supply to municipality;
 - e. Municipality forwards component to DEP for review and approval of planning.

DEP ON-LOT PERMITTING PROCESS

Applies to anyone who intends to install an on-lot septic system with flows of less than 10,000 gallons per day where planning has been approved:

1. Lot owner or agent applies for permit through local agency Sewage Enforcement Office, (SEO's process approximately 30,000 applications for on-lot disposal systems each year.)
2. Local agency SEO conducts soil profile examination and percolation test to determine suitability of site.
3. SEO approves or denies permit within seven days of receipt of completed application. If denied, SEO notifies applicant and provides opportunity for an appeal hearing.
4. SEO issues permit, if approved. Installation of system may begin.
5. SEO may oversee any step of installation and must inspect completed system before coverage and use.
6. DEP can review local agencies' administration of the permitting process.

HUNTINGDON COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION SUBDIVISION REVIEW POLICY

Revised June 19, 2014

Purpose

In order to promote orderly growth and development, to assure compliance with local and State regulations, to assure the coordination of subdivision plans within the County with each other, and to assure consistency of subdivision plans with the Huntingdon County Comprehensive Plan, the Planning Commission provides a review and comment on each subdivision plan submitted to both the local municipality and to other interested agencies.

Jurisdiction

The Huntingdon County Planning Commission is required to review and comment on any subdivision submitted to a Huntingdon County municipality for review and approval under the authority of their municipal subdivision ordinance. This requirement is contained in most municipal subdivision ordinances and in Section 502 (B) of the Municipalities Planning Code. Planning Commission comments are advisory only. Only the municipality may approve or reject a subdivision.

In addition, the PA Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) requires comments from the County Planning Commission for any revision to the municipality's "Official (Sewage) Plan." This requirement is imposed on any major subdivision (11 or more residential lots or any commercial subdivision using on-lot sewage treatment), or any subdivision using community sewage treatment. This is a requirement whether or not the municipality has a municipal Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance.

Time Limit

The Municipalities Planning Code (Section 502(B)) specifies that the local municipality must give the County Planning Commission 30 days to review and comment on any subdivision.

Fee

The Municipalities Planning Code (Section 502(B)) specifies that the applicant shall pay a fee sufficient to cover the costs of review to the County Planning Commission. A complete fee schedule is attached as Appendix A. Fees will be charged for the review of all subdivisions, land developments, and sewage planning modules. The fees will be received prior to review and comment by the Planning Commission (in the case of major subdivisions) or from the staff (in the case of minor subdivisions).

Application Form

The Huntingdon County Planning Commission requires the completion of the attached Subdivision and Land Development Application form by each applicant. This form provides for notification that the municipality has received the subdivision or land development and is requesting review and comment from the County Planning Commission. It also authorizes the planning staff to make site visits to the subdivision during the review process.

Signature

As required by Section 513 (a) of the Municipalities Planning Code, the Chairman or Secretary of the Planning Commission shall sign each plat indicating that the subdivision proposal has "been reviewed by the Huntingdon County Planning Commission". The Planning Commission has designated the Planning Director as their designated representative authorized to sign plats on their behalf. Plats will only be signed after they have been reviewed by Huntingdon County.

Application Completeness

The subdivision application shall contain all information required by local ordinance or State law. Incomplete applications may be rejected by staff along with a letter to the municipality and subdivider noting the missing materials. Data required shall include: County application form (signed by a municipal representative) indicating the municipality's acceptance of the Subdivision Application, a sewage planning module, a copy of the preliminary or final plan drawing, and other required information. The review process cannot be initiated until a complete application has been processed.

Major Subdivisions

Major Subdivisions shall be submitted to the Planning Commission for review at least seven (7) business days prior to the advertised meeting of the Commission. A major subdivision is defined by this policy as six or more lots whether or not new streets or utilities are involved (see the Appendix for a more complete definition). This definition is different from the DEP definition of major subdivision, which is eleven or more residential lots or nonresidential development used for the purpose of submission of a "sewage planning module" to DEP.

A staff review will be made of all major subdivision plans received for review and recommendations submitted to the Planning Commission at their advertised meeting. Following the Commission's review and comment, a letter containing the Planning Commission's comments will be sent to the municipal secretary or subdivision administrator. The comment letter may be signed by the Planning Director, or other staff member designated by the Planning Commission. The officers of the Commission retain the right to sign a subdivision plan, but have authorized the Planning Director to sign a subdivision plan on their behalf indicating that the subdivision proposal has been "reviewed by" the Huntingdon County Planning Commission. If the Planning Commission is unable to review a major subdivision within the time frame allotted by the Planning Code, the staff may forward staff comments to the municipality and applicant pending a review of staff comments at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Planning Commission.

Minor Subdivisions

Due to the large number of minor subdivisions received for review, the Planning Commission authorizes the staff to prepare and submit comments to the local municipality and applicant without action by the Planning Commission. The staff may, however, request review by the Planning Commission before completing its review. A minor subdivision is defined by this policy as five or fewer lots with existing street frontage (see the Appendix for a more complete definition). This definition is different from the DEP definition of minor subdivision, which is ten or fewer residential lots using on-low sewage disposal, used for the purpose of submission of a "sewage planning module" to DEP.

The staff will attempt to review and comment on minor subdivisions within 15 days of receipt. Following the staff's review and comment, a letter containing the staff comments will be sent to the municipal secretary or subdivision administrator. The Planning Director, or other staff member designated by the Planning Commission, is authorized to sign a minor subdivision plan indicating that the subdivision proposal has been "reviewed by" the Huntingdon County Planning Commission.

A report containing a summary of the Minor Subdivision Review Activity for the month shall be presented to the Planning Commission each month. The Commission retains the right to provide additional comments if so desired. If additional comments are not made the staff comments shall be deemed as official Commission action.

Land Development

Applications for land development shall be submitted to the Planning Commission for review at least seven (7) business days prior to the advertised meeting of the Commission. A land development is defined by the Municipalities Planning Code as the development of two or more residential or nonresidential buildings or of a single nonresidential building on a lot or lots (see the Appendix for a complete definition).

Minor land development review will follow the same staff review procedure as a minor subdivision. A staff review will be made of all major land development plans received for review and recommendations submitted to the Planning Commission at their advertised meeting. Following the Commission's review and comment, a letter containing the Planning Commission's comments will be sent to the municipal secretary or subdivision administrator. The Planning Director, or other staff member designated by the Planning Commission, is authorized to sign a minor land development plan indicating that the subdivision proposal has been "reviewed by" the Huntingdon County Planning Commission.

Revised Plan

The Planning Commission and Planning Staff will review a revised plat at the request of a municipality's governing body. A lesser Revised Plan review fee will be levied. If any plan shall be revised after the HCPC Review Certificate is signed, the Planning Commission will need notification from the governing body.

Final Approved Plan

The Planning Commission requests a copy of the final version of the plan and notification of the municipal action taken on the plan.

Subdivision and Land Development Review Elements

The staff review prepared for the Planning Commission shall consider professional planning principles, including the following review elements:

1. Consistency with County and Local Comprehensive Plan: Land Use; Density; Goals and Objectives

The subdivision and land development plan submission process provided on the next page has been developed from the perspective of a landowner interested in completing a subdivision or land development. These ten steps take a property owner from thinking about starting the planning process to having the approved plan filed in the office of the County Recorder of Deeds.

It is recommended that this Ten Step Process be provided to property owners along with the Huntingdon County Planning Commission Subdivision and Land Development Application. Both of these documents are also available on the Planning Department portion of the Huntingdon County website - www.huntingdoncounty.net.

(1) The improvement of one lot or two or more contiguous lots, tracts or parcels of land for any purpose involving:

- (i) a group of two or more residential or nonresidential buildings, whether proposed initially or cumulatively, or a single nonresidential building on a lot or lots regardless of the number of occupants or tenure;

by means of, or for the purpose of streets, common areas, leaseholds, condominiums, building groups or other features.

(2) A subdivision of land.

(3) Development in accordance with MPC Section 107.1.1.

SAMPLE REVIEW LETTER

July 18, 2013

Smith Township Secretary
P.O. Box 1111
Smithville, PA 16666

Re: Smith Minor Subdivision

Dear Mrs. Secretary:

The staff of the Huntingdon County Planning and Development Department has reviewed the above referenced proposal to subdivide a property containing approximately 50.00 acres into two lots. Lot 1 (the residue) contains 48.00 acres and Lot 2 contains 2.00 acres. The property is located approximately ½ mile off U.S. 22 on Highland Drive.

The Planning Commission authorizes Department staff to offer the following comments for your consideration. They are based on a “desk-top” review of the proposal, professional planning principles, county and municipal plans and ordinances and applicable state laws. No field-view was made of the site. The comments are not intended to replace your own review or to offer either legal or engineering advice.

The proposal is inconsistent with the Huntingdon County Comprehensive Plan. The land use proposed by the Plan for this area is Agricultural.

There are no physical limitations (steep slopes, soils, wetlands, floodplains) evident at the location of this proposal.

The purpose of this subdivision is to separate a two-acre building lot from the larger parcel.

The sewage planning module has been completed, showing suitability for on-lot sewage treatment.

This site is in Clean and Green and must comply with Act 319 Rules and Regulations. Payment of rollback taxes may be required. Section 137.41(a) of Act 319 requires written notification to the County Chief Assessor thirty (30) days prior to transfer, separation, or split-off of land.

There is no apparent road access to the proposed lot. Previous access was cut by the Water Street Bypass, and it is not clear how the parcel will be accessed in the future.

The Huntingdon County Planning Commission wants to remind the municipality that the above comments are offered, in conformance with Section 502 (b) of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code, and are designed to assist in implementing the comprehensive plan, sewage facilities plan and your municipal subdivision and land development ordinance. Sole authority for approval or disapproval of this project lies with your governing body.

Please contact this office with any questions concerning these comments and provide us with a copy of your approval or disapproval letter.

Sincerely,

Planning Director
